

Let's Get Dirty! FAQ

Clay and Sex Workshops for All Orientations

Created and hosted by The Sexual Awakening Centre

1. First of all, is clay safe for sex?

YES! When fired in a kiln of course. We use lead free glazes and always fire your masterpiece until it is completely free of pores, making it usable and very safe... they are also conveniently refrigerator and dishwasher safe!

2. Can one really 'play' with their clay dildo, or yoni?

Why, of course! Go big or go home! That being said, you don't have to make a big masterpiece, and the yonis are not meant to be penetrated by any sexual organ. Yonis often remain as beautiful works of art, and the dildos are also works of art that can be displayed in your home, if you wish.

3. Where can I hold a Let's Get Dirty! Soiree?

Gaia and Atia are available to travel anywhere in the world for Soirees, or other workshops, retreats, seminars or healing work. Southern Ontario from Ottawa to Toronto to Windsor is our home-base. If you do not have a venue, we may be able to find a cozy and welcoming space for your group in Toronto (this may include an additional cost). We host at homes, lounges, or most places where clay, hot sex topics, and groups of people are welcome.

4. What happens at a typical Soiree?

We bring the materials necessary for each participant to create a dildo, or yoni. We begin the session playing with the clay and sculpting our ideal plaything or piece of art. In a 1.5 hour session, time is also reserved for answering sex questions that participants can place into a hat, so we can address potentially personal questions anonymously. One of the options we offer for Let's Get Dirty! Soirees, is the option of having the second half of the Soiree reserved for a particular workshop. Gaia and Atia will entertain and engage you in the sex workshop chosen by your 'event coordinator'. And at the end of any Let's Get Dirty! Soiree, if the group has decided to have the clay pieces glazed and fired, Gaia will take your masterpieces for the finishing process and will send the finished items to the 'event coordinator'.

5. Does anyone get naked?

No one will ever be asked to get naked, or do anything that makes them feel extremely uncomfortable. We say 'extremely' because Let's Get Dirty! Soirees often reveal our inhibitions as they relate to sex, we help you get over them.
